Arthur Hames Fails to Name Assailants; The Men Who Attacked Were All Masked

Testimony of Few Witnesses Taken At Hearing Today

Acting Coroner R. L. Selden and a jury he had ordered summoned began the taking of testimony this morning in the Daytona Beach council chambers to determine the cause of the death of Grady Hames, who was shot in the Ohio House about 10:30 o'clock Sunday night and who died at 7:50 o'clock Monday morning, Dec. 27.

State's Attorney David Sholtz was present to represent the prosecution. The coroner's jury was composed of the following well known residents of Daytona Beach: Guy G. Bailey, Frank Bradley, E. A. Branch, Gus Buchanan, J. B. Abernethy and James Hays. The first witness summoned was John Eldred, who lives in the Ohio House, but whose summer home is in New York. He said he had gone to bed when he heard a shot. He got up and stepped out on the porch and saw four or five men between the house and the Kries' tire shop. He heard one say, "We have got him." Two men ran one way and two or three the other. They were well dressed but strangers to him. He just heard three shots. After partially dressing he came out and saw some men carrying a man; heard the Hames girl scream, then saw her shoot three times. Her first shot seemed to be low; looked as if she was shooting at the automobile that was standing near the Kries gasolin shop. "Don't think I ever saw any of the men before; would not have known any of them if I met them the next morning. I saw the car start away. One of the men carrying Hames wore a gray sweater. I was on an upper porch when the girl shot. She was on the walk. Many people were on porch. One of the girl's shots was high, the others low. The girl was not near Grady when she shot. Grady may have been on the porch at the time but I did not see him."

Grady Fell at Corner of Building
J. A. Willis testified he lives temporarily in the Ohio House, but permanent home is Clyde, Ohio; was visiting his brother in Ohio House when he heard shots; thought it was a celebration, probably firecrackers. When he stepped out he heard the Hames girl screaming, "They are taking my daddy; they are killing my daddy." Three men had Hames, who was saying to them: "Gentlemen, don't kill me. I am willing to go, but don't kill me." Two had hold of his arms and one of his legs. One was a smallish man, the others larger. Saw the men throw the elder Hames into the waiting automobile and as soon as he was put in, the car started. The Hames girl came running and shot at the car. "I thought her last shot came close to the back of the car. I saw Grady Hames fall near the corner of the Ohio House on walk. I went up to him and he said, 'Will you stand by me?' and I said, 'I surely will.' Witness said he called a doctor and

When the doctor came he said to take the wounded boy to the hospital at once. He was put in bus and witness went with him. On the way Grady had a hemorrhage. Upon reaching the hospital, Grady was undressed. He was asked if he could identify any of the men who attacked him. He could hardly talk, but said he saw the shortest one do the shooting. He said that was the one that got him. Witness thought three men were implicated in the shooting. Grady had no way of identification, except by comparison of their size. Grady was conscious at hospital and shook his head when he could not speak. Witness did not hear a name spoken by any of the men and said he could not identify the men—they looked like strangers to him. The last he heard Grady say before he reached the hospital was: "They have got me. I know two of them." Grady was in front of Selden's office. The car was some distance toward Main street on Atlantic avenue.

Carl Henry Shoemaker testified: "I live at Graystone hotel; my summer home is in Chicago; I was at the corner of Main street with C. R. James and others when I heard shooting; thought it was someone celebrating, but started to see what it was about. I started toward the Ohio House; saw a Cadillac car parked near gasoline shop. There was a man at the wheel and another in the back seat. There were no lights on the car and I noticed no license. I met four men dragging another man and I thought there had been a suicide. I then saw them throw the man in the car which was facing south. Just then a woman came running from the north and started shooting at the car. I was the only one between her and the car and I got out of the way. I did not see whether either shot hit the car. I found a cap near where the car was standing after it was gone. (Cap here shown witness and he identified it as the one he had found. It was a brown cloth cap, No. 7, and the trade mark showed it had been purchased at one of the eight Anthony stores.) The man at the wheel of the car looked like a short thick-set fellow, and appeared to have slid down pretty well under the wheel. I saw Grady at the corner of the Ohio House; he was leaning against the building when I first saw him and then he witted down on the sidewalk. I did not follow the men to the car with the older Hames. The girl was shooting south and no one was between her and the car she seemed to be shooting at. She fired three shots. It was about two minutes after the shot were fired that I saw Grady at the corner. I talked with the girl and tried to calm her. I afterward saw some one take the revolver from her. (Witness said the one shown looked like the one the girl had.)

C. R. James testified as follows: "I stood on the corner of Atlantic avenue and Main street when the shooting occurred; started on right side of street toward the Ohio House. I thought it was a celebration. Mr. Shoemaker, who was with me, ran across the street. I was near the garage near where a car was parked. There I saw some men dragging a man along the sidewalk. They threw him into the car. Just about that time a woman ran out on the sidewalk and began shooting. She shot three times, the last shot just as the car was turning the corner. I walked across the street and asked the girl what was the matter. All she could say was, 'They have killed my brother and are going to kill my daddy.' (The revolver here shown witness and he said it looked like the one she had.) I walked back with her next to the house in front of the Ohio

Special Cost Is Paid for Opera

By Mrs. Reynolds

Most interesting for the "Last Performance" opera, which will be seen for the first time at the Auditorium and Friday evening, are now in progress.

Mrs. Florence K. Reynolds, the director, is much encouraged and says the superior talent with which she has been provided here warrants her in predicting a very beautiful performance on New Year's Eve. She says the arrangements are shaping up splendidly and that the entertainment will be much superior to that given by most professional casts.

From the song of the "Cooks" is taken the following ditty, which is said to make a big hit in one of the sensational moments of the play:

"You must make pie and you must make tart
To find the way to your laddie's heart.
For the way to a lad's heart, I maintain,
Is with dinner and down red lane."

While the names of all the members of the cast have not been listed as yet, several of the various groups are ready for publication. So far as they have been completed they are:

Editor Daytona Beach News.
"About a week ago, I do not recall the date, I read an interview in the News with Congressman Frank Bradley. The whole aim and substance of the thought expressed by him, I think, when summed up and stated in one word—equalization."

"Now I am writing this while riding on a Pullman car. As some of you know, I am a little long on Pullman and some of the people living in Daytona Beach and some of the people who tour there for a short time wonder why my apartment house is called Pullman."

"Well, being a Pullman employee back in the very early '30s, in fact, to be exact, about from 1931 to 1933, and so when I built these apartments I thought I would like to dedicate the Pullman car as nearly as I possibly could, so that they would be all at night and no bed in the daytime. But that is not what I started to write about."

"As today, on the train, is not Florida weather, it being very dull, rainy and dreary looking, I want to pass the time at something. While it is rather hard at times to write on a train, that again not so bad if you happen to get a Pullman that is well equalized, that means when all the equalizers are working well together, of which there are eight used in each car. But I think only five are used in Daytona Beach, and whether they equalize well together or not do not know. But it seems that at times the two 'rocks' a little. The equalizers on a Pullman car are to keep it from rocking, but last night as I lay in bed it seemed to me the car rocked more than it ought to. I laid awake and thought if only one of the equalizers would break what a wreck it would cause. Then thinking back, as I mentioned before, to the early '30s, when I worked for the Pullman company, one of the parts I made were equalizers. I remember how one had to be very careful, that each equalizer was bent just right. Some of our readers may not know where to look for the equalizer that is used on the Pullman. Well, it is about as heavy as any other one piece of iron used on the car except the axle. It is located on the truck and stretches from one oil box to another. That is an equalizer."

"While in bed last night I remembered the manager once coming through the shop just as I was bending a knee, and said: 'John, don't you think it would be wise to try and strengthen the knee a little bit more?' 'I said we can try and asked him what I should put in to strengthen. He said, as it was an old saying, a Dutchman. He being Irish, I suggested putting an Irishman in. He said no, he would get drunk and fall out."

"Now, I was thinking last night of

Daytona's Community Forum
This man Holmes who has this splendid place of work at the station and with the backing of Dr. J. D. DeHay who presides at the Forum, is a man who has more than a passing interest in his home city at Daytona Beach, Fla. Beginning some years ago with a little forum in the local Methodist church, the rapid growth of which required a large addition to the meeting house every year or two, he has now on his hands, as the inspiring leader and indefatigable manager and impartial chairman, a great Community Forum which is a civic, intellectual and moral beacon light for the whole country for miles around. In this little city with only a few hundred population in the summer time it has been necessary to build an auditorium that will accommodate 2,500 people in order to provide for the crowds that attend the Sunday afternoon forums. It is put to similar uses also during the week. Mr. Holmes is one of those men, who, finding that he had to choose between the business of making money in real estate operations and the intoxication of forum service, deliberately gave up business in order that he might freely, without any material compensation, give himself heart and soul to the forum work. Mr. Holmes is well known among the Baptists of Michigan, having lived in Lansing most of his life, and has served the larger interests of his denomination with marked devotion and great success. At Chautauqua this summer he was elected Secretary of the Open Forum National Council.

Yesterday a very congenial automobile party left for a trip to Tampa, Clearwater, Plant City, St. Petersburg and other Florida points. Those who went were: Mr. and Mrs. Hal Turner of Georgetown, Ky.; Mrs. Betty Thomas of Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Robert Lightfoot, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Nancy J. Bailey, Lehigh, Ky.; Mrs. Bessie Johnson, Virginia; and Henry Sperry of Daytona Beach.

REMOVING BODIES OF ALL AMERICAN HEROES IN BONY CEMETERY

By Associated Press Staff

PARIS, Dec. 23.—Exhumation of the bodies of the American soldiers buried at Bony cemetery, all men of the 37th (New York National Guard) and 30th (Wisconsin) divisions began today.

Of 1,775 bodies in the cemetery about 900 will be returned to the United States and the remainder will not be disturbed. Bony is to be one of the four permanent cemeteries in France, and other bodies will be moved into the cemetery, but this work will not start until the work of sending bodies to America has been completed.

It is the first big battlefield cemetery to be reached by the army exhumation units. The district is so devastated that there is no shelter for the workers and a train had to be provided to make quarters for them.

The winter weather has also set in and movable sheds have had to be built to shelter the men while working.

ILLEGAL PAWNBROKERS FORBIDDEN; POOR OF MADRID ARE HARD HIT

By Associated Press Staff

MADRID, Dec. 27.—The poor of this city have been greatly distressed by an order of the government against the operations of illegal pawnbrokers. Thousands of the workers rely upon pawnshops to tide them over a period of unemployment. Heretofore, they have had recourse to the Mont de Piete, the official pawnshop, which was established to loan small amounts to the needy poor at a low rate of interest on security of pledged articles.

Now, however, it has been turned into a haven of refuge for extravagant folk, who pawn their jewels at high rates of interest.

The poorer people were thus driven away and compelled to resort to numerous small shops where they could borrow under the pretense of selling their valuables, but with the tacit understanding that the shopkeeper would allow them to redeem their goods at a heavy rate of interest.

The minister of the interior has stopped this by issuing a royal order forbidding such transactions. In consequence the poor people are unable to recover their goods from the shopkeepers. Public-spirited Spaniards are taking steps to induce the government to restore the Mont de Piete to its original purpose and make it cater to the poor.

MANY ILLITERATE (International News Service.) WEBSTER, Mass., Dec. 27.—There are more than 2,000 persons in this city who cannot read or write English. The population is 13,258. The figures were made public by Miss Ethel M. Grady, in charge of the school for Americanization and is backed up by the 1918 census.

Reservations at Ridgeway Hotel Very Satisfactory

At the Ridgeway Hotel, Manager R. P. Woodbury is looking after the arrangements for the opening of his hotel on January 15th. Mr. Woodbury says that his bookings for the season have been very satisfactory, and that they will fill his house about two-thirds full. He says he always likes to have some room for the unexpected guest, as nothing gives the "stranger within the gates" a worse impression than to find a hotel full. He says he never wants to come back to a hotel where he has been refused entertainment and shelter at his favorite hotel. People who have been in the habit of stopping at a certain hotel get to looking upon that hotel almost as a home, and they like to feel that the "stranger within the gates" is always out.

Mr. Woodbury will be assisted by the following efficient staff:
Assistant manager and chief clerk, Frank Webster.
Headwaiter, Fred R. Ferrin.
Head chef, Cornelius O'Connell.
Head waiter, James C. Hammill.
Housekeeper, Miss May Wallace.
Engineer, James Cheyne.
Cassier, George M. Leary.
Head hallman, Earl Markle.
Secretary, Mrs. Earl Markle.
Night clerk and auditor, William G. McLean.
Orchestra leader, Miss Constance Grier.

Non-President Marshall
is "Expert Loufer"
(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Here is one man who announces himself an "expert" loufer—and it is Vice-President Marshall.
The vice president made this confession at the annual banquet of the Monday Evening Club here:
"I am the most expert loufer in America and also preside over a body of experts."
